

January 2018

Dear Parents,

We are delighted to be able to offer St. Luke students additional support via morning sessions with teachers at 7:45am.

Beginning on Monday, 1/28/18 teachers will be issuing written invitations to students asked to come in for extra help. The slip will have to be signed by a parent and given to Mrs. Angotti at the security desk when the students arrive. Students may not enter the building for extra help before 7:40am as teachers and staff are not available to supervise them. Extra help begins promptly at 7:45am. Additionally, students arriving for extra help after 7:50am will not be permitted to go to classrooms in order to allow for maximum use of this brief instructional time. Siblings may not enter the building when children arrive for extra help as no supervision is provided.

If your child does not receive an invitation to extra help and you feel it is needed, please email the teacher for guidance and input.

Finally, please note that this information does not apply to students attending early care or AIS.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Jan Brunswick
